Hemingways River Camp Mara is a proud member of Mara North Conservancy (MNC), a pioneering community-based model that protects over 74,000 acres of the Maasai Mara in partnership with more than 800 Maasai landowners. This approach ensures landowners benefit directly from conservation, safeguarding wildlife habitats and preserving one of Africa's most iconic ecosystems.

Through our membership, we support habitat preservation, anti-poaching efforts and sustainable tourism across a region that is home to over 550 bird species, 95 mammal species and the annual wildebeest migration. In addition, River Camp contributes USD 5 per bed night to the Maa Trust, which empowers local communities through education, healthcare and sustainable livelihoods.

By staying with us, you play a vital role in conserving the land, supporting the Massai community and protecting the rich biodiversity of the Mara for generations to come.
